

Partitive Division

Nico has 10 stickers. He places the stickers equally between two pages of his sticker album. How many stickers will Nico place on each page?

Nico knows there are two pages or groups. He needs to determine how many stickers to place on each page or how many objects to place in each group.

Nico places five stickers on each page. There are five objects in each of the two groups.